

Biographical Profile

About the President

Vaneese Johnson is the President of On the Move Staffing Services, Inc. -a full service employment staffing company established in 1998 and headquartered in San Francisco. Ms. Johnson created On the Move Staffing Service to provide solutions to personnel needs. Client services include temporary, temporary to full-time and full-time placements. The mission of the company is to link employable communities with business communities. Her expertise combines more than twelve years of management, customer service, sales, communication skills and team player efforts that are attributes to the success of her company.

Having worked with one of the industries largest growing international staffing companies and San Francisco pioneers in employment staffing, Ms. Johnson gained experience in the employment-staffing arena over 10 years ago. During her tenure respectively, Ms. Johnson was promoted only after her first year of employment in the staffing industry from a Service Coordinator, a Service Supervisor. She then was recruited as an Account Manager, where here dynamic sales skills were enhanced and refined. Upon her resignation, Ms. Johnson was being groomed for a Regional Sales Manager position, which was responsible for more than seven Bay Area territories.

Effective account management of clients has rendered more than $1M in sales for the past 4 years with numerous awards and accolades. Ms. Johnson has been one of the industries most sought after persons due to her enthusiastic personality and effective communication skills.

Ms. Johnson holds an Associate of Arts degree form Vista Jr. College in Berkeley California, UCLA Management Development for Entrepreneurs and Kellogg School of Management-Advanced Management Education Program both in 2003. She also attended entrepreneurial training classes at Harvard Business School for the Inner City 100 in 2004.

Volunteer & Community Activities

Volunteer assignments have consisted of Black Expo-The Black Business Listings, African American Business Summit-, and San Francisco Black Chamber of Commerce, and Jobs 4 Youth, Jewish Vocational Services and NCSDC- Northern California Supplier Development Council, Renaissance Entrepreneurship Center.

Community activities include guest speaking engagements for – Various Community Based Organizations, Teaching and Job Preparedness Workshops for Jewish Vocational Services, Small Business Consulting and Teaching for Renaissance Entrepreneurship Center, Women’s Initiative for Self-Employment and facilitator on numerous workshops and meetings.

Ms. Johnson has increased her community commitments by currently serving as board member of Northern California Supplier Development Council and California Staffing Professionals, member of National Coalition of 100 Black Women, Inc., and other previous committees dedicated to serving Bay Area communities.

Awards & Accolades

2004 Certificate of Honor - SF Mayor’s Committee on Persons with Disabilities as Small Business Employer of the Year
2004 Madame CJ Walker Entrepreneur of the Year Award
2003 NCSDC Supplier of the Year
2003 AMEP Certificate from University of Illinois, Kellogg School of Management
2003 MDE Certificate from UCLA, Anderson School of Business
2002 NCSDC Volunteer of the Year
2000 Commendation from the County of Alameda Board of Supervisors
2000 Entrepreneur of the Year –“Emerging Business” by the Renaissance Entrepreneurship Center

The Company

On the Move Staffing Services is a full service-staffing firm that provides human capital solutions through temporary placements, community employment outreach and diversity consulting services to Fortune 500, mid-size and local companies. OTM has dedicated partnerships with community-based organizations, entrepreneurial training centers, academic institutions, all, which help the mission of “linking the best employees to the best employers”.